FCC has several things going on this week in relation to 89ers festivities and we'd love to have your support!

On Thursday, we have entered the "Great Bed Run!" We will be racing against other groups who have constructed beds, running down Oklahoma Ave. in front of the Jr. High. Our "expert" team of engineers and creative-types have constructed an "Ark"-themed bed and we will have Andrew Hardin, Kristi Blakemore, Betsy Ball, Ben Gallo and Shana Fields as our "race team." It will be a fun event to watch and have people cheer us on. It begins at 5:45 p.m. with a "strut your stuff" parade in front of the Jr. High to show off the beds, and then there will be races from the temple just past the steps of the Jr. High beginning at 6 p.m.

On Saturday, we will dress up the bed a little more and use it as a parade entry "float" for this year's 89ers theme. We need some "walkers" to come along and wear any FCC shirt they would like as we carry our FCC Banner and the bed will be pulled down the street. We would love to have as many kids – age kindergarten and older – walk with us. John and Karen Allen will be happy to monitor your child if you don't want to walk. We will be meeting on the west side of the temple to lineup around 11:15-11:30 a.m. The parade starts at noon.

E-mail Karen at karenkallen@cox.net or text 615-2240 if you can help us out on Saturday.

Also on Saturday, don't forget the Youth Group will have their Food Booth on the corner of Oklahoma and Broad in front of Dewart-Gumerson Insurance. They will have hamburgers, hot dogs and lots of side items. Funds raised will go to support Mission Camp and other projects.

On Sunday, you are invited to dress casual or wear western attire for worship. We will be singing some old-traditional favorites and continuing Ronnie's series on "The Last Words" of Jesus.
